

Letters to the Editor

Lewiston Alerted To New Pitfall

Hey Lewiston, notice more trucks hauling clay on our roads lately? Get ready, more are coming.

The good ole boys from St. Elsewhere are going to dig a 68-acre pit 40 feet deep, smack up against the radioactive waste site. Hasely Trucking is going to sic 200 trucks per day on us. This could last four years.

An elite club of 100 members say they are going to raise fish there. Of course this is going to be made into a lake, they say. I wonder how long it would take for this pit to fill with water? Maybe they will truck the water in.

The clay is untested, perhaps the DEC is afraid to have any testing done because it is so close to the radioactive dump site. Where are all the people who were so concerned about this site? Where are the experts on radioactive material? Where is John LaFalce? Where is Mario Cuomo?

Be sure to breathe deeply when driving behind one of these trucks.

Brian Dawne