

Metropolitan News

—News Staff Photographer Robert E. Stoddard

OFF LIMITS — Work continues behind a fenced off former storage site in Lewiston on a $2-million project designed to corral radioactive materials stored from the World War II atomic bomb project. Above, a workman inspects a tank installed as part of a decontamination area.