

Corps to update cleanup efforts

The Army Corps of Engineers will offer residents an update on the cleanup efforts at the Seaway and Ashland 1 and 2 sites in the Town of Tonawanda at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Community Room of the Phillip Sheridan Building, 3200 Elmwood Ave.

The corps is working to clear the sites of soil that was contaminated in the mid-1940s, when what was then Linde Air Products of Union Carbide processed uranium ores under contract with the federal government for the atom bomb project.
